I. Introduction

The South Carolina Association of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Counselors (SCAADAC) Certification Commission supports the concept of voluntary certification through assessing and validating the competency of addictions counselors. The certification process focuses on the individual's current level of knowledge and skills in substance use disorder counseling.

The South Carolina certification was designed to:

- a. define the role and functions of the addictions counselor;
- b. evaluate the education and experiential training of each individual due to the variety of therapeutic disciplines, approaches, techniques and values; and
- c. evaluate the knowledge and skills with focus on core functions.

Applicants for certification should be aware that the certification process is not a process through which, in itself, one can develop competency as a counselor. The process of certification is a competency-based process that presumes that at the point of application a certain level of competency already exists. It is a process that affirms and certifies existing competence. Therefore, it should be expected that individuals having little or only basic experience in the counseling core functions should be prepared to encounter some greater degree of difficulty in demonstrating competency for certification than would individuals who have more than entry-level experience.

A. History

In 1975 the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Association of South Carolina was formed by a group of directors, counselors and intervention specialists. It was believed that workers in the field of addictions needed a vehicle by which to assure that trends and innovations in the field were disseminated to aid the professional growth and development of its workers.

The Association determined that a certification procedure needed to be instituted to assess the level of counselor competence. The first written test was administered at the College of Charleston and at the University of South Carolina in December of 1977. The first test was given to over 100 people who aided in setting the standards for the certification system. Oral interviews were established in 1977.

In 1982, the process was taken over by the (then) South Carolina Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse (now the Department of Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse Services). DAODAS offered credentialing in five specialty areas: Master Counselor, Clinical Counselor, Intervention Specialist, Primary Prevention Specialist, and Addictions Associate. Also offered was credentialing for ADSAP and SCIP Structured Group Leader. The system was maintained by DAODAS until December 1995 at which time the South Carolina Association of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Counselors assumed responsibility for the certification system. The Certification Commission is established by SCAADAC to maintain the certification system.

B. Philosophy

The SCAADAC Certification Commission acknowledges that addiction continues to increase. The impact on society is demonstrated through concerns and problems that exist in families, schools, workplace, and the criminal justice system. Since the effects are broad in scope, the treatment provided to individuals and families must be narrow in focus. The counseling core functions are set forth to identify the skills and knowledge which must be demonstrated in order to provide quality care.

The SCAADAC Certification Commission has adopted this process of counselor certification to validate the skills and knowledge of individuals who are responsible for the provision of care to improve the lives of persons who are identified as having a substance use disorder.

C. Purpose

Counselor certification allows for the establishment of standards for the professional practice and service delivery in the field of alcohol and other drug abuse. Certification provides professionals the ability to obtain recognition of having met a prescribed level of professional competency.

The process of certification fosters credibility and integrity in the field, assuring the general public and employers of the level of competence of each certified professional.

D. Overview of Current System

SCAADAC offers certification in two specialties; Certified Clinical Supervisor and two levels of Certified Addictions Counselors.

Under the auspices of NAADAC, the Association for Addiction Professionals, the National Certification Commission for Addiction Professionals (NCC AP) written examination has replaced the written examination administered by DAODAS. Oral examinations continue to be administered.

The system is a voluntary system offering those who apply a mechanism by which to validate knowledge and skills in the addictions counseling area.

The seventeen-person Certification Commission is comprised of counselors who have been certified for more than three years and have been nominated and appointed to serve by the SCAADAC Board of Directors.

The Advisory Committee of the SCAADAC Certification Commission is comprised of five members appointed by the SCAADAC Board of Directors. Two of these members are former members of the Credentialing Review Committee and three members are Certified Clinical Supervisors. None of the members are affiliated with the Certification Commission.

E. Duties and Responsibilities of Certification Commission Members

1. Assist those who seek certification in successfully completing the process.
2. Establish criteria and standards for certification and recertification.
3. Administer oral examinations.
4. Recommend policies that will improve the professional standing of the field.
5. Promote the goals of the SCAADAC.

II. Eligibility

A. Specialties

1. Certified Addictions Counselor I

Requires two years full time or 4,000 hours experience in the Alcohol and Other Drug Counseling Core Functions within the previous five years. Also required is a Bachelor's Degree or higher in a human services field from a regionally accredited institution (see page 33 for Coursework Criteria). In all instances a minimum of 270 clock hours must be documented in education or training related to the counseling core functions.

Additional requirements include:

Documentation of 150 hours of clinical supervision by a certified addictions professional (See Section X: Guidelines for Submitted Documentation);
Affirmation in writing of adherence to the South Carolina Certification Ethical Standards;
Submission of all appropriate documentation with completed application and fee;
Pass Level I written examination;
Pass oral examination;
Receipt of final approval by SCAADAC Certification Commission.

2. Certified Addictions Counselor II

Requires four years full time or 8,000 hours experience in the Alcohol and Other Drug Counseling Core Functions within the previous five years. Also required is a Bachelor's Degree or higher in a human services field from a regionally accredited institution (see page 33 for Coursework Criteria). However, in all instances a minimum of 450 clock hours must be documented in education or training related to the core functions. Additional requirements include:

Documentation of 150 hours of clinical supervision by a certified addictions professional (See Section X: Guidelines for Submitted Documentation);
Affirmation in writing of adherence to the South Carolina Certification Ethical Standards;
Submission of all appropriate documentation with completed application and fee;
Pass Level II written examination;
Pass oral examination;
Receipt of final approval by SCAADAC Certification

3. Certified Clinical Supervisor

Must be currently certified as a Certified Addictions Counselor II.

Requires five (5) years or 10,000 hours of full-time of experience in Human Services or AOD counseling within the previous five years. A Master's degree in a clinical subject or a Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution plus 250 hours of approved training related to the core functions. An additional 30 hours of training specific to clinical supervision is required regardless of degree or experience. Additional requirements include:

Affirmation in writing of adherence to the South Carolina Certification Ethical Standards;
Pass oral examination for CCS and Receive final approval of SCAADAC Certification Commission.

(Work experience must be verified by current and/or previous employers on official letterhead and should specify dates of employment, full-time or part-time status, job title and that job duties were in core functions of addictions counseling.)

B. Core Functions

The primary role of a Certified Addictions Counselor is to establish a therapeutic relationship while assisting clients in the recognition of problem areas that exist which may prohibit a successful recovery. To this end, the following core functions are utilized in the certification process to assure competence of the Addictions Counselor:

01. Screening and Intake: The determination of the appropriateness of the individual to serve the client; gathering of basic demographic information; and establishing a schedule for further contact.
02. Orientation: Informing the client of rules and goals of the program; the governance of conduct and treatment compliance that may affect treatment outcome; hours of operation and costs as well as clients' rights.
03. Assessment: The evaluation and identification of strengths, weaknesses, needs and problems of an individual to aid in the development of the treatment plan. An analytical process that facilitates diagnosing the individual as well as ability to function while in treatment.
04. Treatment Planning: Establishing an agreement between counselor and client to achieve goals that are measurable and attainable; the opportunity to determine treatment process and appropriate resources.
05. Counseling: The use of specific skills to aid individuals, families, or groups through exploration of problems, attitudes, and feelings. Determining alternative solutions and developing appropriate decision-making skills.
 - Individual Counseling: Using the one-to-one relationship as the primary method of application.
 - Group counseling: Using the group process as the primary method of application.
 - Family and couples counseling: Using the family dynamic as the primary method of application.
06. Case Management: The coordination of activities that bring together all essential services and resources to aid in the achievement of treatment goals.
07. Crisis Intervention: The provision of immediate services to a client under emergency circumstances that may be directly or indirectly related to misuse of alcohol or other drugs (i.e., arrest, suicidal/homicidal ideation, family separation, divorce, or death of significant other).
08. Client Education: The provision of information to clients individually or in a group setting which is based on general knowledge of alcohol and other drug issues, mutual-help, other community resources, and/or other pertinent information.
09. Reports and Record Keeping: The maintenance of written materials necessary for the orderly provision of services to the client. Documentation will include assessment, treatment plan, written reports, progress notes, continuing care plan, discharge summary and other documentation determined pertinent to client care.
10. Case Consultation: The giving or receiving of information, advice and aid between professionals to assure comprehensive quality care of a client.
11. Termination and Continuing Care: The management of the orderly ending of regularly scheduled client contact and implementation of necessary client contact following termination.
12. Clinical Supervision: Providing oversight of clinical caseloads to assure appropriate methods of counseling are being provided and to provide the opportunity for supervised counselors to develop and enhance clinical capabilities and skills.
13. Training: The provision of information and skills to professionals and other target groups to provide an opportunity for specific knowledge, attitudinal and/or behavior changes.

C. Knowledge

1. Human Behavior

Relationship of alcohol and other drugs to human behavior, values, lifestyle and attitude;
Influences of culture and society on human behavior;
The importance of human sexuality on treatment outcome

2. Signs and Symptoms of Substance Use Disorder

Classification of mood altering drugs and their effects;
Use of combinations of drugs and resultant complications;
Withdrawal syndrome;
Stages of severe use and behavioral patterns of severe use

3. Counseling Techniques

Practical application of counseling approaches in individual, group and family therapy;
Use of appropriate approaches with clients from various ethnic, cultural and economic backgrounds;
Philosophy and objectives of various counseling theories;
Evaluation of progress and outcome of treatment

4. Continuum of Care

The coordination of total client care;
Availability of treatment and community resources to client

5. Federal and State Guidelines

Application of regulations and guidelines that directly relate to abuse/misuse of alcohol and other drugs and commitment procedures;
Clients' Bill of Rights and Confidentiality Regulations that protect both counselor and client.

III. Reciprocity of Certification

The SCAADAC Certification Commission offers reciprocity for counselor certification for those counselors holding a current addictions certification or addictions counseling licensure at the time of application as described in Appendix VI: Certification by AOD Reciprocity. SCAADAC does accept verification of passage of the NAADAC or ICRC written examinations. Applicants must have test results sent directly to the SCAADAC Certification Commission. Reciprocity candidates who cannot provide proof of passing an oral interview with the reciprocal certification body must pass a SCAADAC Certification Oral Interview.

IV. The Certification Process

All levels of certification shall be valid for a period of two years. No applicant should use the CAC or CCS certification or make reference to being certified as such until obtaining this designation.

The process is as follows:

- A. The applicant must obtain a SCAADAC Counselor Certification and Recertification Manual. Applications must be made using forms supplied in the manual. It is the responsibility of the applicant to make sure that he or she is using the most recent version of the application.
- B. Applicant shall submit a full and complete application with processing fee. All application requirements and examinations shall be completed within three years of the initial application date. If requirements are not met within the prescribed period, the application, evaluation, an official job description, and a signed affirmation of adherence to the Code of Ethics (See Appendix I: Code of Ethics) must be updated accordingly. A new application fee will be required.
- C. Upon receipt of all elements of an application, an administrative review of the file will be conducted. A checklist indicating additional items that may be needed for file completion and assuring compliance with certification criteria will be sent as a courtesy to the applicant. Please retain this checklist and use it as a guide to complete the application. Additional copies will only be emailed upon request.
- D. Applicants may apply to be scheduled for the written examination once receipt of application is confirmed. Once the written examination and the application packet is successfully completed, the applicant may request to be scheduled for the oral examination. The oral request may be emailed or faxed. Test dates, location and fees for the oral examination will be listed on the SCAADAC website. Without exception, all fees must be received prior to scheduling of examinations.

The results of written examinations will be sent by the testing authority in writing to the applicant. The Certification Commission will give the results of the oral examination in writing to the applicant within 7 to 10 days after completion of the oral examination. No results will be given via telephone or by personal request.

E. The formal application package must include:

- 1. The completed application
- 2. Official transcript received directly from the academic institution
- 3. Documentation of experience
- 4. Official copy (issued by the employer) of the applicant's current job description
- 5. Documentation of training (See Section IX: Guidelines for Accepted Training Hours)

6. Evaluation completed by a supervisor who is a certified addictions professional to include documentation of supervised core functions.
7. Documentation of clinical supervision (See Section X).
8. A written case record in which the applicant, as primary counselor, has demonstrated the ability to provide the full range of care from intake through continuing care/termination. Must include case notes.
9. A written philosophy of treatment of one page if applying for Certified Addictions Counselor I or II.
10. A written philosophy of supervision of approximately three pages if applying for Certified Clinical Supervisor.
11. A signed affirmation to the Code of Ethics for Addictions Counselors.
12. Application or reapplication fee.

V. Examinations

The process of evaluation consists of two examinations - one written and one oral. The written exam is administered by a third-party company designated by NAADAC. Persons who are qualified and designated by the SCAADAC Certification Commission administer the oral exam. The Certification Commission assumes full responsibility for adequate safeguards to protect the integrity of the oral testing procedures.

A. Written Examination

The written examination serves as an objective measure of applicants' knowledge of substance use disorders and the core functions (see Section II-B).

The SCAADAC Certification Commission uses the NCC AP NCAC written examination for Levels I and II. No other examination is accepted.

You can take an examination up to three times in a calendar year. If you fail the examination three times, NCC AP requires that you wait until the next year to try again. During that time, you should study again and look for new resources to help you with the examination.

Written exam results are valid for four years.

B. Oral Examination

The oral examination measures the ability to apply knowledge and demonstrate competency in the core functions. A written case history is required as well as a statement of philosophy of treatment. All oral interviews are audio taped. These tapes become a part of the applicant's file, and if the application is not successfully completed all tapes will be filed and kept until such time that the Oral Interview is successfully completed.

Persons who do not pass the oral examination may apply to retake the oral examination under the following guidelines:

Oral examinations may be taken no more than three times within a three-year period, beginning on the date of application. If a first oral interview is not successful, the applicant is encouraged to follow recommendations made by the Certification Commission prior to being granted a subsequent interview. Applicants who are unsuccessful after three attempts may resubmit a new application for certification with payment of appropriate fees (refer to Section II and Appendix II.)

In instances where the oral examination is given more than once, the applicant will be required to present the case study at subsequent interviews. All files are considered confidential and shall not be released to another party without written consent.

Scheduled Examinations and Oral Interviews

A. The scheduled dates on which the written examination is administered will conform to the dates available for the NCAC examination.

Registration

Visit www.scaadac.org for current test registration/application.

B. Oral examinations are conducted four times per year on the following annual schedule:

Examination Dates

February

May

August

November

Request Letter and Fee Deadlines

Visit www.scaadac.org for current request letter and oral interview fee registration deadlines.

C. All requirements for eligibility and documentation must be met prior to oral examination being administered. The SCAADAC Certification Commission office must receive documents prior to deadlines listed on the SCAADAC website. Applicants must request to be scheduled for oral examination in writing. All fees for examinations and oral interviews are non-refundable.

VI. Appeals Procedure

Applicants may be required to appear in person before the Advisory Committee. Five members will be appointed by the SCAADAC Board of Directors. Four members will be former members of the certification board and one member shall be Certified Clinical Supervisors not affiliated with the Certification Commission. This committee will review all appeals regarding certification and present findings to the SCAADAC President and the Board of Directors for resolution.

VII. Recertification Procedure

Renewal of certification shall be required every two years. The following procedure governs the recertification process:

A. Recertification Application

As a courtesy, applicants will be emailed a reminder that their recertification is due approximately 60 days prior to their date of recertification. Applications may be downloaded from www.scaadac.org. It is always the responsibility of the applicant to maintain certification, which includes personal and professional address changes and/or name changes.

Applicant must submit the recertification application with recertification fee to the SCAADAC Certification Commission 30 days prior to expiration date of certification. Applicants must pay a late fee if their applications are not received at least 30 days prior to expiration of their certification. (See Appendix II for the Late Application Fee that must accompany a late application.) If the applicant allows their certification to expire, the applicant will be required to submit an updated certification application with appropriate fees (See Appendix II for fee schedule.)

B. Extensions

Extensions may be granted only prior to the date of certification lapsing. Extensions are only granted one time and are only granted for a period of six months. The SCAADAC Certification Commission handles extensions on a case-by-case basis. Counselor must identify the reason for making the extension request. (See Appendix II for fee schedule.)

C. Documentation

Signed Certification Letter of Agreement and list of trainings related to the core functions confirming 40 hours of continuing education or training during the current two-year term of certification. The primary focus of trainings should be on the core functions. If applicant is selected for audit, the applicant will be required to submit verification of all continuing education/training confirmed on Letter of Agreement. This verification must be training certificates or official transcripts of undergraduate, graduate or professional studies forwarded by the issuing institution to the SCAADAC Certification Commission. Training certificates must contain the trainer's and trainee's name, training name and the number of clock hours for the training event.

Recertification Requirements:

- A minimum of 20 hours as an attendee.
- Two hours of professional ethics.
- A maximum of 20 hours of the 40 hours required for recertification may be earned through events where the applicant is the trainer.
- A maximum of 50% of the hours required for recertification may be earned through home study and/or online education.

D. Upgrading from CAC I to CAC II

Applicants upgrading from CAC I to CAC II must:

1. Provide documentation of four (4) years full time or 8,000 hours of experience in the Alcohol and Other Drug Counseling Core Functions within the previous five years.
2. Provide documentation of passing score on the NCAC II Written Exam (Note: exam score is valid four years).
3. Submit an Evaluator's Statement that has been completed by a SCAADAC CAC II or supervisor.
4. Document 75 hours of clinical supervision that has occurred within the last two years.
5. Submit a signed affirmation of adherence to the SCAADAC Code of Ethics.
6. Make payment of upgrade fee.

Incomplete packets will not be accepted.

VIII. Refusal, Suspension or Revocation of Certification

- A. Certification may be refused or revoked for the following reasons, including but not limited to:
1. Failure to adhere to the SCAADAC Professional Ethical Standards as signed and agreed to by the applicant.
 2. Fraud or deception in reporting employment circumstances, training, or supervision when applying for certification or in taking the examinations provided in this process.
 3. Pending felony charges or conviction of felony charges and convictions of misdemeanors.
 4. Practice of alcohol and other drug counseling using a false or assumed name or impersonating another counselor.
 5. Use of illegal drugs, abuse of prescription drugs and mind-altering drugs, or any substance, which may interfere with competent and attentive performance of duties.
 6. Providing services for which one is not licensed or certified to perform.
 7. Negligence or wrongful actions in the performance of one's duties.
 8. Misrepresentation of credentials.
 9. Non-Adherence to continuing education/training requirement for recertification.
- B. Written complaints concerning a Certified Addictions Counselor must be submitted to the SCAADAC Board President. Any person may make a complaint. All complaints will be reviewed and investigated. When warranted, the final phase of investigation will be a hearing with the accused, the complainant and all other pertinent witnesses present. Persons making a complaint must be willing to follow the process all the way through or there is NOTHING that can be done about the complaint.
- C. A final decision on all ethics hearings will be submitted in writing to the SCAADAC Board. The accused and the individual initiating the complaint shall be notified of any decisions in writing after the next regularly scheduled meeting of the SCAADAC Board.

IX. Guidelines for Accepted Training Hours

Certification Requirements:

Certified Addictions Counselor I	270 clock hours
Certified Addictions Counselor II	450 clock hours
Certified Clinical Supervisor	Master's in a clinical subject or Bachelor's from a regionally accredited institution and 250 clock hours of training and education, plus 30 hours of clinical supervision training or education regardless of degree.

Acceptable workshop and training hours must be relevant to the core functions. If you are unsure hours will be accepted, please contact the SCAADAC office.

Contact hours are defined as actual number of classroom or workshop hours spent in the activity, exclusive of breaks, or the actual supervised hours spent in a practicum, internship or apprenticeship.

Internship or practicum may be counted as training hours or work experience but cannot be counted as both.

Required hours: Six hours training in professional ethics and three hours in HIV/AIDS education. A minimum of two hours of Ethics training is required every two years for recertification as part of the 40 hours required for recertification.

Credit will be given for college courses relevant to the field of counseling and/or addiction provided a grade of "C" or better is achieved. Three (3) semester hours equal thirty (30) clock hours for undergraduate courses and 45 clock hours for graduate courses. An official transcript received directly from the institution is required when using college courses for clock hour credit. One (1) CEU equals 10 clock hours.

Continuing education must be sponsored by an organization, institution or group recognized as knowledgeable in the field of substance use disorders. Courses taken in management, organization, administration, or operations are not accepted as educational requirements for certification or recertification.

X. Guidelines for Submitted Documentation

- Application: Must be complete, demonstrating that experience meets criteria for eligibility. Applicable fees must be included for application to be considered. Allow 7-10 days to process applications.
- Job Description: Job description for each position that relates to counselor core functions. An official job description of current or most recent related position must be included. Include dates of employment, hours worked weekly, list of specific responsibilities and duties, and validation of functioning in all core functions. Must be signed and dated by employee and employer.
- Evaluator's Statement: Supervisor's Statement: Completed evaluation form with statement of strengths and needs for specific core functions, submitted directly to Certification Commission. Supervisor's statement must be provided by a certified addictions professional.
- Philosophy of Treatment or Clinical Supervision (when applicable)
- Your definition of substance use disorders and how it should be treated.
- Theory or technique(s) applied in the practice of treatment or clinical supervision.
- Case Record: A written case record in which applicant as primary counselor has provided the full range of care from intake through termination/continuing care.
- No client names or other identifying information may be evident on case record.
- Transcript: Official transcripts received directly from academic institution.
- Training: Acceptable documentation may be a copy of training certificates or copy of CEU certificate.
- Clinical Supervision: A form is supplied for documentation of Clinical Supervision. Care should be taken to document the number of hours and/or minutes and provide information as to whether the supervision session was individual or group supervision. Documentation of clinical supervision, not administrative supervision, is required. The Clinical Supervisor must be a SCAADAC CAC II or CCS, NAADAC NCAC II or MAC, IC&RC certified or licensed addictions professional equivalent to a CAC II or a Board-Certified Addiction Specialist credential by American Board of Preventive Medicine (ABPM), American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology (ABPN), American Board of Addiction Medicine (ABAM), or the American Osteopathic Association (AOA), with sufficient experience and expertise to provide guidance to in-process persons. At least 40 hours must have been within the past two years by a SCAADAC certified addictions professional.

Guidelines for Case Record Presentation

PURPOSE OF THE CASE RECORD

All applicants for clinical counselor credentialing must submit the case record. It is one method by which the applicant's competency in the clinical counselor core functions is judged. You will be required to present your case during your Oral interview.

DESCRIPTION

An actual or composite case may be submitted. The case record must include a description of a full range of care for the client, from intake through termination, including session-by-session notes of individual, group or family counseling. These notes should include information on the client's progress and the actions taken by you as the primary counselor to facilitate the client's movement toward identified treatment goals. Services may be provided in an inpatient or an outpatient setting and should be of sufficient duration to allow you, as the primary counselor, to demonstrate that you can take the client through a spectrum of services. You may use any forms as long as all essential components are included in the case record. Do not submit drug testing orders. Information contained in written notes is sufficient. If a photocopy of an actual client file is used, please blank out all names, except your own, to protect client and staff privacy. In all cases, the content must be legible. Illegible records or those with client names will be returned.

COMPONENTS OF THE CASE RECORD

The following services must be included in the case record that is submitted:

I. Intake and Assessment

A. Intake

Basic demographic information on the client should be documented along with the agency's appropriateness to serve the client.

B. Assessment

Assessment information should include the presenting problem, substance use history, circumstances of entry into services, bio-psychosocial information, such as health, mental status, treatment history, family, education and work. All information pertinent to determining the client's needs should be included.

II. Treatment Plan

The treatment plan should be based on analysis of the assessment information and should include therapeutic goals, services to be provided, estimated frequency of services and referrals made.

III. Treatment Process

A. Direct Services

The case record should include documentation of all direct services provided to the client, with a sample session note. These notes should include information about the client's progress and the actions taken by you as the primary counselor.

B. Indirect Services

The case record should also include any case consultation related to serving the client.

IV. Transition Planning and Continuing Care

A. Pre-Discharge Planning

Session notes or case consultations should document the criteria used to determine the client's readiness for discharge, as well as your work with the client in the discharge planning process.

B. Documentation of a transition plan.

V. Discharge Summary

A. Summary of services client participated in or was offered.

B. Progress made while client involved in treatment.

VI. Philosophy of Treatment

Write a one-page statement of your philosophy of treatment, including your theoretical orientation to and your use of various counseling theories. State how your philosophy affects your work with substance use disorder clients.
